Why We Pray
By: William Philip

Prayer is essential to the Christian life, but sometimes it seems hard. Why We Pray doesn't simply tell us why we should pray, but instead focuses on four blessing-filled reasons that will help us want to pray.

Rather than feeling discouraged and disheartened by your inconsistency in prayer, you'll feel reinvigorated to approach God with confidence and joy, delighted by the privilege of talking directly to our loving heavenly Father.

A BRIEF THOUGHT

Romans 7

Timothy S. Lane

Paul continued to struggle with loving and obeying Christ throughout his life (Romans 7). Notice that Paul's struggles moved him closer to Christ and closer to other believers. The Christian life is lived in community. If your struggle with temptation is moving you in these two directions, God will change your desires. You might not notice this from one day to the next, but over the years you will look back and be thankful for the work the Spirit has done in you. The Spirit is the one who is able to fix our eyes on Jesus instead of on our own desires and/or failings. Paul closes Romans 7 by saying, "What a wretched man I am! Who will rescue me from this body of death? Thanks be to God-through Jesus Christ our Lord!" (Romans 7:24-25). Don't lose hope. You and your sin are no match for God's goodness, power, holiness, and grace! The promise of the gospel is that God moved toward you before you wanted a relationship with him. Paul says, "For while we were still weak, at the right time Christ died for the ungodly" (Romans 5:6). This is your comfort and your motivation in your daily fight against temptation. Don't lose heart; look to Jesus, the author and finisher of your faith (Hebrews 12:2).
